

COME TOGETHER!

IT WAS family fun all the way at a free event with live entertainment in Swinton last Sunday.

Sumfest, at Park View Sports Bar and Restaurant on Park Road, was held from midday to 10pm, bringing different sections of the community together to enjoy a day packed with attractions for a good cause.

Music was provided by Steel City Radio DJs, there was dancing by young people and Britain's Got Talent belly dancer Sophie Mei, a variety of stalls, workshops, a bouncy castle, fairground rides, face painting, food and drink and a raffle.

Funds were raised for Hal-lam FM's Cash for Kids, which provides treats for children who are ill or living in poverty at Christmas, and Steel City Radio's Kidz Luv Media Too programme that offers media and broadcasting training to disadvantaged young people.

The Kids Luv Media scheme helps get young people off the streets and into positive and constructive activities that will help to reduce anti-social behaviour and minor crime rates.

The event was sponsored by Manvers company Gala Tent.

COULD YOU GIVE OTTO THE FOREVER HOME HE DESERVES?

Hehehehe I thought it was about time I had my photo on here again, so you can all see how handsome Otto (the great one) still is!!! People often forget that I am looking for a home as well, I know I do a fantastic job as the rescue mascot, but I am still waiting for my forever family to find me!! So here I am.....handsome Otto!!

This lovely dog deserves better. If you think you could give him the happy stable and forever home he deserves, please call Rotherham Dog Rescue on:

Frankenstein at Little Theatre

A CLASSIC play about the creation of life is coming to Doncaster next week.

Patrick Sandford's adaptation of Mary Shelley's Frankenstein will hit the Doncaster Little Theatre stage from Tuesday until Saturday.

A spokesman for the show, which is directed by Tommy Roberts, said: "2 Act Theatre Company presents this unique and inventive stage adaptation of one of the greatest horror stories of all time.

"Every word in Patrick Sandford's adaptation is taken directly from Mary Shelley's original novel.

"Almost 200 years after its first publication, the themes within Frankenstein still ring out with relevance for societies of any time and culture."

Shows begin at 7pm with a 2.30pm show on Saturday. Tickets are £12 and £10.
